HEALTHY SCHOOL MEALS

Official intro

Developing healthy, nutritious, meals for children is essential. We are delighted to work with two CORU Registered Dietitians in developing all of our menus. We have based our meals on the Healthy Ireland Nutrition Standards for Hot School Meals and on the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA) and the Food Safety Authority of Ireland's (FSAI) nutrition recommendations for children. These are the nutrient guidelines the FSAI used in their recent report on benchmarking the nutrient content of children's meals sold in the foodservice sector (FSAI 2025).

These guidelines give limits for nutrients such as fat, salt, sugar and saturated fat for children. Working with our food team and our CORU Registered Dietitians, we have innovated to develop balanced, healthy, options for children's Hot School Meals. We have strict limits on the amounts of sugar, salt and saturated fat permitted in our meals and these are balanced to an upper limit of one third of the total daily recommendations.

We have developed healthier varieties of familiar favourites including a low-fat chicken goujon and healthier sausages. You can read the nutrition information for these foods, and all of our meals, below. We offer every child a selection of fresh fruit with their meals every day and we include as many different types of vegetables as we can. We will continue to innovate with our meals and ingredients to supply children with the healthy, balanced, nutrition they need to learn and grow.

Smart Nutrition for Growing Minds

Nutrition standards haven't changed what we do, they've validated it. We're happy to see the Hot School Meals Scheme becoming even more regulated and standardised with Minister Calleary's call to reduce fat, salt, and sugar. This is a positive step that we've supported from the beginning. Clear standards raise the bar, and we're proud to already meet and exceed them.

STANDARDS GUIDE US, CHILDREN INSPIRE US

School meals must be diverse and inclusive. That's why we're committed to making sure every child can enjoy a meal that meets their individual needs.

Over the past several months, we've worked closely with our CORU-registered dietitians, chefs and suppliers to adapt some popular meals. Our new versions meet the EFSA's guidelines, while maintaining the taste, texture and familiarity that many children know, rely on and trust.

This wasn't just about keeping favourites on the menu, it was about protecting access. Because when we say every child deserves a healthy meal, we genuinely mean every child.

We're calling it: Reformulation!

Proof that nutrition and inclusion can go hand in hand

Our Standard is the Benchmark

Let's look at the facts behind our food so you can see the true nutritional value of what we serve and feel confident in our approach.

The Guidelines for Sugar, Salt and Fat

These guidelines are based on the EFSA's nutritional recommendations for children and consider the school meal as one third of a child's dietary requirement.

Sugar

Added and naturally occurring

Children's foods need to be as low in added sugars as possible (EFSA 2022). When reviewing sugars, it's important to remember that foods like fruit, onions and tomatoes will all contribute to total sugar intakes. However, fruit and vegetables should form part of healthy meals as they add both fibre and vitamins.

There should be less than 8g of sugar per school meal

Salt

A national challenge

The majority of Irish people eat double the recommended amount of salt per day (FSAI 2016). While we need to address this nationally, in the school meal program we need to ensure salt is limited. According to the Irish Heart Foundation: Children aged 4-6 should have less than 3g of salt per day. Children aged 7-10 should have less than 5g of salt per day. Children 11 and over should have less than 6g of salt per day.

There should be less than 1.6g of salt per school meal

Fat

Not all fats are equal

In line with the EFSA guidelines, children should consume approximately 33-60g per day of fat, depending on their age and activity (EFSA 2010). Therefore children need 11-20g of fat in a midday meal for health. "Low Fat" (i.e. less than 3g of fat per 100g of food) is not appropriate for children's meals as fat is an essential nutrient.

Fat levels will naturally vary with different meals. A view of fat content balanced over a week is appropriate to ensure balanced nutrition for children. (This is true of all nutrients (Shaw & Lawson 2007)).

However, not all fats are equal. Polyunsaturated fats and monounsaturated fats are part of a healthy, balanced diet and can be included. Yet saturated fat is one type of fat that does need to be limited in children's meals (EFSA 2010).

There should be less than 20g of fat per school meal

There should be less than 6g of saturated fat per school meal

Transparency is our middle name!

At Freshtoday, we provide full nutritional breakdowns on each of our meals and up-to-date daily menus. For more information on the work we are doing to improve the lives of children nationwide...

NUTRITIONAL INFORMATION

Did you know?

The Nutri-Score system is used to assess the nutritional quality of a meal and provide an easy-to-understand guide. This internationally recognised tool balances positive nutrients with those that should be limited!

Understanding The Facts

Based on the above values for sugar, salt and fat in a school meal, we are using a traffic light system so that you can easily understand the nutritional value of a meal, relative to the guidelines.

The traffic light system only looks at nutrients to limit. The advice is to go for more foods with “green” and fewer foods with “red”. Where there is a red, it means the food has a high level of these nutrients per serving. There is no need to ban all foods with “red”. Lots of very nutritious foods like cheese, almonds, and olive oil will have “reds”. This means that you can use them, just not in large amounts. Remember; Red doesn’t always mean unhealthy. Fruit and veg can show red for natural sugars, not added ones!

Reformulating Foods

A healthier way to keep children included!

Over the past year, we've listened to families, professionals and most importantly, to children. For many with autism or sensory needs, familiar foods like goujons or sausages aren't preferences, they're a lifeline. Removing them can mean removing access to a meal entirely, excluding the very children who need support the most. As a result of our Reformulation project, these dishes now fully meet EFSA guidelines while keeping the taste, texture, and comfort children rely on. This is what real inclusion looks like: healthy, compliant, and truly accessible.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK!

CHICKEN GOUJONS

We've worked with an Irish supplier to create a goujon that is:

- ★ 100% chicken breast
- ★ low in fat and saturated fat (reduced by 79%)
- ★ low in sugar (reduced by 40%)
- ★ reduced salt by 14%
- ★ baked and never fried
- ★ has fewer calories (from 253 kcal per 100g to 161kcal)

SAUSAGES

We've worked with an Irish supplier to create a sausage that:

- ★ supplied by a Bord Bia approved supplier using only Irish pork
- ★ is steam cooked
- ★ is free from MSG, phosphates and preservatives
- ★ comes in a seaweed (alginate) casing
- ★ is fully sustainable!

VEG PIZZA

We've worked with an Irish supplier to create a veg pizza that:

- ★ has a wholegrain base (equivalent to two slices of wholegrain bread)
- ★ has a hidden veg tomato sauce
- ★ is served with corn on the cob on the side
- ★ is topped with low-fat cheese

ALL FULLY COMPLIANT!

Free Fresh Fruit!

MAKING EVERY MEAL
FULLY COMPLIANT!

We offer free classroom fruit bowls to all FreshToday schools, making fresh fruit easily accessible to all students in schools. This ensures kids get the nutrients they need, meeting the department requirements. Children are free to have fruit as a snack, pair it with our hot meal, or take it home. It's a no brainer to keep children focused and nourished all day long.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR MEALS?

● Choosing an A rated meal? Great!

You're already getting a well-balanced option. Add some of our fresh classroom fruit and you've got an even bigger nutrient boost!

= Extra nutrient boost!

= Fully compliant

● Opting for a plainer meal? That's okay too!

Simply grab our free fruit to bring it up to a fully compliant, balanced meal.

Every child. Every meal. Fully compliant.

No matter what option is chosen, with the addition of free fresh fruit, every FreshToday meal meets the standards for a healthy school lunch.

WE PLEDGE...

TO ALWAYS STAY CREATIVE & INNOVATIVE.

We're constantly reformulating, reimagining, and refusing to settle for "good enough." Working closely with producers and suppliers, we've made proven progress developing meals that meet nutritional goals while appealing to kids' tastes.

TO KEEP EDUCATING

We believe education is just as important as nutrition. Through everyday interactions, support from our team, and fun tools, we help children understand their food and encourage confident, curious, and empowered eaters.

TO PLAY OUR PART FOR THE PLANET

We make big efforts across our system to reduce waste – always pushing forward. From giant reusable sauce containers to compostable and recyclable packaging, we think about every detail. We even consider the carbon footprint of all our meals! Thoughtful. Scalable. Always improving.

YOU PLEDGE...

TO SUPPORT DAILY ATTENDANCE.

School is about so much more than lessons. It's where friendships are made, routines are built, and confidence grows. We know that sometimes little ones wake up feeling under the weather – it happens! But when children attend regularly, it not only helps them get the most out of their school days, it also means less food goes to waste. Every lunch matters, just like every day in school!

TO TRUST THE MEALS PROVIDED.

Our hot, balanced meals fuel your child's day. Extra snacks often replace the main meal and hold kids back from trying new foods. Trust the lunch and help build healthy habits.

TO KEEP LUNCH FRESH AND EXCITING.

Kids get bored with the same meals. Changing orders in our app keeps lunches fun and balanced. Explore the options together and encourage new flavours!

Processed Food – What is it?

The words 'processed food' often conjures up fear or uncertainty around artificial additives, health risks and a departure from 'real food'. But the truth is far more nuanced. At its core, processed food simply means any food that has been altered from its original state. That includes washing, chopping, freezing, fermenting, baking, drying, canning, or cooking. By that definition, most of the food we eat is processed in some way. For example, to make Greek yoghurt, milk has been cultured, strained and packaged. To make olive oil, olives are crushed and filtered. Even homemade bread is technically processed.

Why is food processed?

SAFETY

SHELF LIFE

NUTRITION

Safety: Pasteurizing milk kills harmful bacteria. Canning preserves food that would otherwise spoil. Freezing halts the growth of microbes. Shelf Life: Processing reduces waste. Fresh spinach might last a few days in your fridge, but frozen spinach can last months. This is critical in preventing food insecurity and ensuring availability in all seasons. Nutrition: Many processed foods are fortified to address widespread nutrient deficiencies. Cereal is often fortified with iron and B vitamins. Convenience: Most of us don't have time to grind our own flour, soak beans for 12 hours, or butcher animals. Processing saves us time and effort, without which many of us wouldn't be able to eat healthy meals at all.

Not all processed foods are the same

IT'S IMPORTANT TO DISTINGUISH BETWEEN LEVELS OF PROCESSING:

Minimally processed foods: These are cleaned, peeled, chopped, or frozen but still close to their natural state, e.g. frozen vegetables, bagged salad, roasted nuts.

Processed foods: These might include ingredients like salt, sugar, or oils to enhance flavour or preservation. Examples include canned tuna, cheese, whole-grain bread, or hummus.

Ultra-processed foods: The European Food Safety Authority defines UPF's as modified by chemical processes and assembled into 'hyper-palatable' food. These are mostly made from industrial ingredients and additives. They often include sweeteners, colourings, emulsifiers and preservatives and are energy dense with a high glycaemic load. Examples include soft drinks, instant noodles and packaged cakes.

Processed food is not about "good" versus "bad" it's about context, frequency, and overall dietary patterns. A diet built on whole foods like fruits, vegetables, grains, and proteins, supplemented with processed items for practicality and pleasure, is both realistic and healthy. Rather than fearing the term, it's more useful to read labels, understand ingredients, and make informed choices.

MARGHERITA PIZZA WITH CORN ON THE COB

Our dietitian says...

We use low-fat cheese and a wholegrain base (the equivalent of two slices of wholegrain bread!) to maximise fibre. Our specially formulated tomato sauce is packed with blended veggies like tomatoes, onions, spring onions, garlic, and thyme for extra goodness.
